Pawnee Pride is Unique

We appreciate your interest in grassfed meats and sustainable ranching. We believe that we have some advantages that you will want to explore. Allen Nation, editor of the GrassFarmer, calls these "unfair" advantages. Our greatest unfair advantage is our location. Not only are we located near enough to population centers to be accessible but far enough from them to not be influenced by urbanization. The bonus is that we are in the heart of the largest remnant of virgin, tallgrass prairie in Nebraska. It is generally acknowledged that the most nutritious food comes from the most pristine environments. . Our second unfair advantage is our background. The Rohrbaugh family has a unique heritage of ranching, forestry, grocery, professional meat cutting, land management and a love of the outdoors. These skills and interests have served us well along the way. Last not but least is experience. We have been on the land for over 30 years. We helped it evolve from a diversified family farm, to a grass-farm, to what is now a sustainable meat producing ranch. We have learned from customers for over 20 years and have grown up with the local food movement. For more information, contact us at:
